

MEETINGS AND RETREATS

¡BIENVENIDOS!

WELCOME TO LOS POBLANOS!

Thank you for your interest in Los Poblanos for your meeting. Set among 25 acres of lavender fields, enormous cottonwood trees and lush formal gardens, Los Poblanos is one of the most stunning properties in the Southwest to host an event. From the minute you drive down the long tree-lined allée flanked by fields of lavender and rows of vegetables, you know you are in a very special place. There are countless venues on the farm estate to host your guests, whether it's the lush historic gardens at the Hacienda or the grand portico at La Quinta, an architectural gem that boasts sweeping views of the mountains.

ACRES OF LUSH FORMAL GARDENS

In the heart of the Rio Grande River Valley, Los Poblanos offers a wide variety of outdoor spaces. The unmatched variety of outdoor gardens, architectural detail, and historic New Mexican elegance provides a backdrop for an outdoor event or gathering, with little need for added decoration. The formal Spanish-style gardens were designed in 1932 by Rose Greely, a pioneer female landscape architect. Around every corner, one can find vibrant flower beds irrigated with river water, Spanish tile fountains, rose cutting gardens, winding pathways, and a wonderfully shaded drive lined with gorgeous mature cottonwoods.

LA QUINTA

CLASSIC NEW MEXICAN ELEGANCE

La Quinta, an architectural gem built in 1934 by famed architect John Gaw Meem, was designed to host important cultural and elegant events for the New Mexico community. Meem is widely considered New Mexico's greatest 20th century architect, and his name is synonymous with Santa Fe style. Los Poblanos is widely considered John Gaw Meem's most beautiful work in his oeuvre, creating an ideal setting for the perfect New Mexico gathering and minimizing the need for décor.

THE GRAND BALLROOM (Capacity 120)

One of John Gaw Meem's architectural masterpieces, the 1935 Grand Ballroom is undeniably one of the most stunning venues in New Mexico. The ballroom's parquet walnut floors, elaborate carved ceilings, decorative Spanish tile and monumental fireplace make it a magnificent setting for truly memorable events. Four sets of French doors open to the surrounding gardens and the Grand Portal.

THE GRAND PORTAL (Capacity 180)

The classical styling, size and grandeur of this space create the perfect setting for al fresco dining and cocktail receptions. With magnificent views of the Sandia Mountains, the Grand Portal has a twenty foot deep covered portico surrounding a Portuguese tiled swimming pool with fountains. It features a true fresco painted in 1937 by Peter Hurd depicting San Ysidro, the patron saint of farmers, and a series of small mural panels of pastoral farm scenes by Harry Miller.

THE LIBRARY

Entering through famed New Mexican artist Gustav Baumann's carved deco doors, the Library is a grand yet warm space filled with a collection of books, vintage photographs and art. With its leather couches and deep wingback chairs flanking the fireplace, it is the perfect gathering place for post-dinner cocktails.

GILPIN GALLERY

Albuquerque's first art gallery open to the public, the Gilpin Gallery features four large windows for natural light, original cork floors and a permanent exhibition of black and white photographs by Laura Gilpin in 1937. This clean, contemporary space can be used for everything from a cocktail reception to an indoor ceremony.

La Quinta, “one of New Mexico’s invaluable treasures,” is surrounded by magnificent, vibrant gardens, intimate patios and lush lawns. From the formal Spanish-style Rose Greely garden, striking carved doors and mantels and true frescos, La Quinta is a stunning setting for a celebration.

THE HACIENDA

HISTORIC BEAUTY

The Hacienda, one of John Gaw Meems residential masterpieces, is perfect for more intimate celebrations. The Spanish courtyard, dripping with Lady Banks' roses and lush greenery, provides a dramatic backdrop with its Moorish fountain, massive carved doors and kiva fireplace. Family-style dining for up to 42 people in the Ventana Room offers beautiful views of the lotus pond, lawns and Sandia Mountains. And cocktails and passed hors d'oeuvres in the coziness of the Sala Grande can elevate the experience of any small gathering.

BARN COMMONS

SERENITY AND FOCUS

Perfect for more casual work groups of up to 16 people, the Barn Commons Meeting Room is a boardroom meeting space with Knoll powered work tables that can be custom configured and state-of-the-art audio visual technology. Located centrally on the property at Los Poblanos, the meeting room has views of the grape harbors, gardens and mature trees. Working lunches can be arranged or, for a more special dining experience, meeting goers can dine indoors or out at the Ventana Room at the Hacienda.

BARN COMMONS SITE FEE

Full day: $500

Half day: $350

- A. U-shape meeting normal - seats 16 (2 people per table) - three tables lengthwise (twice) with two end tables. This configuration allows the addition of 3 more people (whom would have limited leg room).
- B. U-shape meeting narrow - seats 14 - same as above but only one end desk. This still allows someone to walk the middle.
- C. Conference table standard - seats 8-14 - six tables pushed together.
- D. Conference table small - seats 6-12 - four tables pushed together lengthwise, then one at each end, sandwich style.
- E. Workstation islands - seats 4 per island

CUISINE

RIO GRANDE VALLEY CUISINE

Led by Chef Jonathan Perno, a native New Mexican three-time James Beard award nominee, our award-winning field-to-fork dining is seasonally driven, influenced by the fresh ingredients from our organic farm and is indigenous to New Mexico.

Inspired by the day's harvest, Los Poblanos cuisine wanders the line between rugged and refined. Located in the Rio Grande River Valley, private dining at Los Poblanos features the most pure field-to-fork menu in the Southwest in one of the most spectacular settings. Our Rio Grande River Valley Cuisine is not only rooted in seasonal organic ingredients from our own farm, but also from longstanding relationships with local farmers and herdsman. Fresh ingredients are our focus and our passion. We love what we do and we believe that you can taste that in our cooking.

OUR PHILOSOPHY

WE PUT THE CLIENT FIRST

We promise to craft an event that reflects who you are. We will accommodate your preferences and dietary restrictions without compromising taste or quality.

WE NOURISH OUR GUESTS

We believe that the most delicious food is also intrinsically good for you. Food made from quality ingredients that feeds your body what it really needs is, in turn, more physically satisfying.

WE GROW ORGANICALLY AND SOURCE SUSTAINABLY

We feature seasonal and organic produce from our own farm as well as other local farms, harvested within hours of your event. If we can't grow it, we partner with local farmers that can.

WE KEEP CRAFTSMANSHIP ALIVE

We are committed to making our food by hand. That means we make our own pickles, mayonnaise, mustard, jams, relishes, baked goods, pastas, and even sausages, all from scratch, using traditional techniques.

WE REDUCE OUR WASTE

The cycle of our business goes from the farm to your table and back to the earth as compost. We promise to compost our food scraps in our own gardens as well as share them with the animals on the farm.

ARTISAN COCKTAILS, BEER & WINE

The Los Poblanos beverage program features the best of what is available, both locally and abroad, creating a captivating selection of cocktails, beer and wine that compliment Chef Perno's menus perfectly. Paying homage to Los Poblanos' agricultural roots and organic farming model, we source from our own fields and other local farms. Our cocktails feature a wide variety of organic ingredients, fresh botanicals and small-batch spirits, as well as house-made components including lavender simple syrup, bitters, and hydrosols.

Our wine list incorporates producers spanning the entire globe, with special attention paid to those offering the best examples from their region, and producers that follow our sustainable and organic principles. We proudly showcase New Mexican producers of wine, beer, and spirits on all of our beverage lists.

Our on-site Certified Sommelier, Dylan Storment, offers Sommelier services to our guests of both Campo and private events. For private events, we are able to provide consultations for food and beverage pairing, wine focused dinners, tastings and classes programmed into your event and more.

THE INN

ACCOMODATIONS

Our guest rooms and suites exhibit classic New Mexican style with original artwork, carved ceiling beams, hardwood floors, and antique southwest furnishings. All bedrooms have luxurious bedding and feature our signature lavender spa amenities.

AMENITIES

- Custom spa amenities made from lavender grown on the farm
- Free Wi-Fi
- Architectural tours
- Freshly stocked piñon wood for your fireplaces during the winter season

BARN COMMONS

Featuring a solar-heated outdoor salt-water swimming pool, a fitness center, bathrooms and showers, and a multi-purpose meeting and multimedia room used for a variety of functions - from business meetings to yoga classes. We've worked hard to preserve the intimate and unique experience that keeps guests returning to Los Poblanos.

MEEM GUEST ROOMS & SUITES

The Meem rooms and suites are located in the historic and renovated hacienda designed by New Mexico's most important architect, John Gaw Meem. A style attributed to him, the "Territorial Revival" rooms include 1930s revival tin light fixtures, hand-carved beams, ironwork, hardwood floors, hand plastered walls and fireplaces and period New Mexican artwork. Although no two rooms are alike, each room in the original hacienda enjoys beautiful views of a lush garden, an intimate courtyard or a sweeping view of the farm. (Please note: fireplaces are wood burning and are set daily during winter. If you are sensitive to the smell of smoke, please consider the Field Suites).

FARM GUEST ROOMS & SUITES

These suites are in 1930s dairy-style buildings with pitched tin roofs and white stuccoed walls. Interiors are clean and simple with a modern feel. The Farm Suites feature wood burning fireplaces, hardwood floors, original artwork and incredible views of the gardens, acequias, and the lotus pond. Several rooms have private patios, with seating areas that can be enjoyed in the New Mexico sun all year round.

FIELD GUEST ROOMS & SUITES

These suites are in 1930s dairy-style buildings with pitched tin roofs and white stuccoed walls. Interiors are clean and simple with a modern feel and feature hardwood floors, original artwork and incredible views of the fields, gardens, acequias, and the Sandia mountains. All Field Rooms have semi-private patios, with seating areas that can be enjoyed in the New Mexico sun all year round.
