NEW MEXICO WINE

Our home of New Mexico has a long tradition of wine making. In 1629, over 130 years before the first established California vineyards, monks were planting grapevines in the Rio Grande Valley. In the late 1800's, New Mexico was flourishing with grapevines, and was on its way to being a successful wine region. However, in the last 1800's devastating floods ravaged the area and in 1920 the industry was shut down with Prohibition. It wasn't until the 1970's that the industry began to revive itself. Today we are home to three thriving American Viticultural Areas of Mesilla Valley AVA, Mimbres Valley AVA, and Middle Rio Grande AVA.
